
The Greenbackers' Impatience.

New York, July 25.—Chas. C. Adams, twice a candidate of the greenback party of Ohio for governor, wrote Gen. O. Jones, chairman of the state committee of that party in New York, saying it was doubtful whether the state convention of Ohio on the 28th inst. would nominate an electoral ticket to be voted for at the coming election, and asking his advice on the subject. Jones in reply says: "General, but he runs as the candidate of our party, or even as a third party candidate, recognizing our principles and our organization, in the canvass, he will poll the vote of nearly every greenbacker in the state; but he must not make the intention we suppose, for our true men care nothing for the state's combinations. They are becoming impatient and discontented at his delay. They want them, not will have candidates to represent them, not have parties or organizations which do not care too much questions of vital interest to them."
